Your Attire —
Its Arrangement
In a
Hartmann

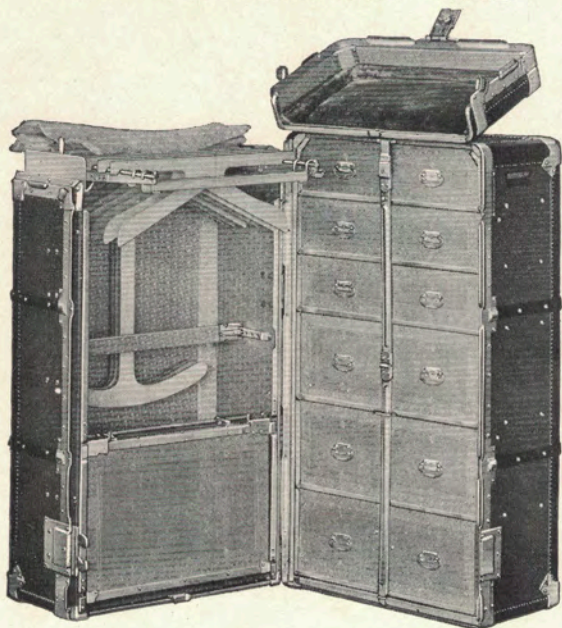

At first glance, wardrobe trunks, like people, look much alike. But—again like people—when we take a second glance we find decided differences. There is in the Hartmann Wardrobe Trunk that subtle air of distinction we are always looking for but seldom find. It's born of forty-eight years in the business—and the Hartmann signature on every Hartmann trunk.

HARTMANN TRUNK CO., Racine, Wis.

THE HARTMANN LINE

Over Half a Million in Use—Quality Tells

There are over thirty models of Hartmann Cushion Top Wardrobes; each model is made in several sizes to provide the traveler with the type and size of trunk that is best suited for his needs.

Hartmann also manufactures a complete line of Berth-High Steamers, General purpose trunks, Hat and Shoe trunks, Pullman Cases and Wardrobe Suit Cases.

To realize the full benefit of your HARTMANN Cushion Top Wardrobe

THE PURPOSE of this booklet is to acquaint you with the best methods of arranging your garments for travel in a Hartmann Wardrobe Trunk.

The suggestions for the arrangement, folding and hanging of your wearing apparel are the results of many years careful study and practical travel tests.

You do not pack a Hartmann

The garments you have selected for travel are arranged on the hangers in the garment section. You place them there as easily as you slip a hanger into a suit-coat and hang it in your clothes closet at home. There they remain, never shifting or crowding, and at the journey's end you remove them as needed, immaculate and unwrinkled.

It is truly said

"No Trunk like a Wardrobe—

No Wardrobe like a Hartmann."

To Open Your Hartmann

DOUBLE set of keys for the Master Exterior Lock and Drawer Locking Bar is furnished with every trunk. Carry one set on your key ring and keep the other set in reserve. Should you lose both sets, the key number will be found on the lock. You can get duplicates by asking for them by this number at any Hartmann dealer or write to us direct.

In opening your trunk, place it with the handle side toward the wall or in a position so that the left hand side or garment section is free to swing open.

To open a Hartmann Panama or Castle-Grande, release the Top Master Lock and raise the Cushion Top. At the right of the hangers there is a rod which automatically releases the lower Keyless Lock. When this is done the garment section can be swung completely open.

To open a Hartmann Rite-Hite, release the center lock and two draw bolts, then swing garment section completely open.

The Hartmann Garment Protective Cushion permits you to arrange, carry and remove each garment in perfect condition.

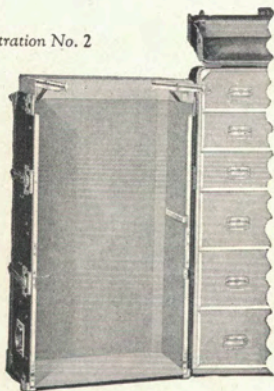

The Hartmann Cushion Top

THE RAISED CUSHION TOP is recognized as the greatest achievement of the wardrobe trunk industry. It is the most important feature in the Hartmann. If its purpose is properly understood the traveler can hang garments on the perfected Hartmann hangers and remove them without a wrinkle at the end of the trip.

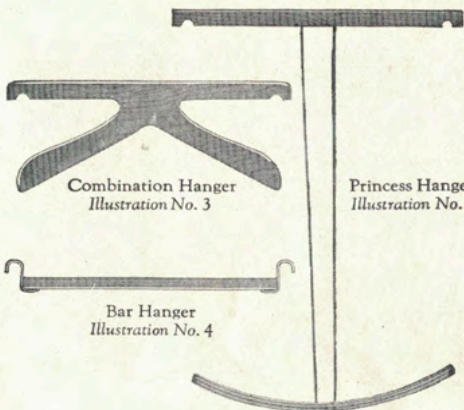

This illustration shows how the Hartmann Protective Cushion comes down over each individual hanger when the trunk is closed, cushioning the space between the hangers and preventing garments and hangers from being crushed one against the other.

Preparation BEFORE hanging your clothes in the garment section remove the shoe box, the retaining bar and hangers. Dust out the garment section and wipe off the interior hardware. We suggest this to insure perfect cleanliness.

Heavier garments are placed in the front and back of the trunk in order to give preferred positions to lighter garments in the center. See illustration No. 19.

The Hangers

HERE are three different kinds of hangers in your Hartmann Wardrobe . . . the Bar hanger, the Combination hanger and the Princess hanger.

Each hanger is designed for specific uses to carry better, certain garments of your traveling apparel.

No. 7

Overcoats

HERE is a particular manner in which an overcoat and wrap should be folded for the bar hanger. Place the hands in the shoulders of the coat, turning the garment inside out, with one shoulder fitting into the other.

Hold the coat with your right hand at the shoulder, bring the center of back and fronts together with your left hand and lay the garment down.

Throw back one of the fronts and arrange the sleeves in their natural folds. Bring the two fronts of coat together again. Place the hanger beneath the garment about two inches below the ends of the sleeves. Holding the garment in position, place the hanger in the trunk.

(Illustration No. 7 shows the correct position of the sleeves after the garment is placed on the hanger.)

Wraps

WOMAN'S WRAP folded in exactly the same manner as the overcoat is shown in illustration No. 8. The wrap is hung so the fur collar is at the bottom of the garment section, where the fur will not become matted by the pressure of other garments.

A heavy sport cape or similar type of sleeveless garment may be folded over the hanger at the shoulder line; the bulky part of the garment then comes near the bottom of the trunk as shown in illustration No. 9.

Additional Garments

THE bar hanger may be used to increase capacity as it will carry a number of garments at one time. Illustration No. 10 shows one skirt, an evening gown, a one-piece wool dress and an afternoon frock all placed on one hanger.

Combination Hanger

HIS hanger will accommodate all types of men's and women's suits. The vest of a man's business suit is placed on the hanger first. Lay the coat down facing up, with fronts open. Insert the hanger in the shoulders and button the coat. Lift the hanger with garment, turn it over and lay it down with the back of coat up. Fold sleeves toward the center of the back as shown in illustration No. 12.

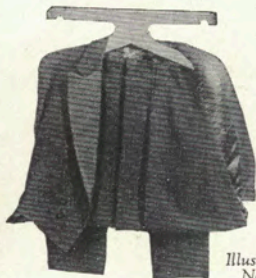

Lay the trousers over the coat with the waist line even with the ends of the sleeves and the cuffs of the trousers hanging in front of the coat. Then place the hanger in the trunk as shown in illustration No. 11.

The weight of the trousers will hold the sleeves in the correct position without the use of pins.

(Note: For greater capacity it is possible to carry two suits on one hanger. Always put the lighter coat on first.)

Evening Clothes

MAN'S DRESS SUIT should be hung on the combination hanger in exactly the same way as the business suit shown in illustrations No. 11 and No. 12 with the trousers folded over the top of the hanger.

If the dress coat is short, it may be carried as shown in illustration No. 13. If long, open the coat and throw the vest over the top of the hanger. Then turn up the tails of the coat and lay them inside the shoulders as shown in illustration No. 14. Bring vest and two fronts of the coat to their natural positions.

If handled carefully, when hanger is placed in the trunk, the bottom of the coat will remain in this position without pinning.

Other Uses

NUMBER of women's garments may be carried on the combination hanger. The tailored suit is handled in the same manner as the man's business suit shown in illustrations No. 11 and No. 12. A sport sweater or jacket is placed on the hanger in a similar manner.

Fold the skirt with the fullness out and place it in even folds over the hanger. Every skirt should be folded over the hanger at the hip line as shown in illustration No. 16.

Three to five blouses may be carried on the combination hanger as shown in illustration No. 15. The number will vary according to the weight of the fabrics. In addition, one or two frocks or tailleurs may be placed over the top of the hanger.

(Note: An extra skirt or any light-weight frock may also be carried over the top of this hanger.)

The Princess Hanger

THE Princess hanger is used only for afternoon or evening gowns.

Fasten the garment in its natural position as it would be when worn. Place the hanger into the shoulders as in illustration No. 17. Reverse the hanger as shown in illustration No. 18, with the fancy side of the gown exposed.

All fancy trimmings may be properly arranged after the garment is placed in the trunk.

The Retainer Bar

IN ARRANGING the garments, before turning in the hanger rods, it is advisable to reserve a heavier garment for the front.

The retainer bar is placed near the center of the garment section. The hooked end of the bar slips into the fixture at the left, the other end snaps in place at the right as shown in illustration No. 19.

The bar should not be forced back; a light pressure insures perfect position to the folded garments while in transit.

Travel Regulations

THE Hartmann Berth-High and Taxi Steamer Wardrobes conform to the present steamer regulations and are great favorites for foreign travel.

On modern vessels, where the arrangements of cabin or stateroom will permit, a regular size Hartmann Wardrobe is allowed to stand at the foot of the berth or against the wall.

Baggage regulations, with a few exceptions, are the same on the railroads of the United States and Canada. One hundred and fifty pounds of baggage can be checked without charge on one full fare ticket.

The excess baggage tariff is based on the cash fare. For every hundred pounds of excess weight, the traveler is charged one sixth of the cash fare. Any fraction of a hundred pounds is computed proportionally on this basis.

Hartmann Cushion Top Wardrobe Trunks are designed to provide generous capacity and lasting durability with minimum size and weight. They are travel-sure in every way. Over half a million travelers the world over recommend them enthusiastically.

Hartex Fabrikoid

ANY Hartmann Trunks are lined throughout with Hartex Fabrikoid in various colors and shades; in other less expensive Hartmanns this material is used to face the drawers and shoe box.

Hartex Fabrikoid is a material manufactured under a secret process and is by far the best material yet discovered for trunk linings. It will not stain or fade, scuff or wear shabby, and because of its waterproof qualities it can be washed with soap and water or even sterilized with a mild solution of carbolic acid.

From a sanitary viewpoint, Hartex Fabrikoid linings are unequaled. Hartex is not affected by moisture and will not mould even when subjected to long periods of dampness. Because of its non-porous nature, Hartex is resistant to dust, germs or any foreign matter.

The Shoe Box

THE Hartmann shoe box will hold four or five pair of ladies' or three pair of men's shoes, 8½-B or wider, arranged in the position shown in illustration No. 20.

Close the shoe box and place it in the trunk by fitting the small metal fixtures at the lower corners of the box into the openings in the metal angles near the bottom of the garment section. See illustration No. 21.

Raise the shoe box up into position shown in illustration No. 22 and fasten into place.

Most men find it convenient to utilize the shoe box for their brief cases, stationery, business papers, etc. Their extra shoes are carried in one of the drawers.

Dust Curtain Laundry Bag

AFTER the garments are arranged in the Hartmann, canes and umbrellas may be carried on either side of the garment section as shown in illustration No. 23.

The combination dust curtain and laundry bag is brought down over the garments and fastened in place by a rod at the bottom of the curtain. Shorten the rod by pushing the right end toward the center. Both ends will then fit into the side angle fixtures.

When not used for soiled clothes, the laundry bag is a convenient place for several pair of boudoir slippers or pumps.

Drawer Appoint- ments

THE TOP drawer of every Hartmann is conveniently divided for costume accessories. Lingerie or men's shirts and underwear are usually placed in the second drawer.

The electric iron holder and man's hat carrier are not found in every Hartmann, but may be purchased from any Hartmann dealer. The man's hat carrier is removable and this space may be used for other apparel.

Set the iron between the two metal fixtures. The notched arm of the metal cross bar fits on the handle, while the thumb screw holds iron securely in place as shown in illustration No. 26.

Ladies' Hat Drawer

HERE are two styles of Hartmann hat boxes, both of equal capacity. They are used in the same way. In some trunks, the deep bottom drawer forms the hat box. In others, the two bottom drawers are reversed, forming the hat box shown in illustration.

Fill the crown of the hats and line the lower drawer with tissue paper as in illustration No. 28. Place two large hats on the forms. Nest two smaller hats over the crowns of the larger ones. In addition, small sport hats may be carried on top. The tissue paper folded over the hats provides protection for aigrettes and fancy feathers.

The back of the upper drawer hinges down and fastens, allowing the drawer to be placed upside down in the trunk over the hats.

(Note. In either type, the hat forms may be removed and the lower drawers used for general purposes in case hats are not carried.)

No. 30

Locking Bar

THE LOCKING BAR is placed in front of the drawer section. The fixture near the bottom holds it in place. The bar is snapped into position at the top of the trunk by placing the left hand in position as shown in illustration No. 30 and bringing pressure to bear with the thumb. At the same time with the right hand under the knob, raise the bar until it automatically locks.

Extra Sport Clothes

RIDING HABIT or golf togs may be carried conveniently in the back of the garment section. There is ample space for the boots or additional footwear behind the shoe box.

To Close Your Trunk

BEFORE CLOSING your Hartmann Wardrobe, be sure that the retainer is in place and that the shoe box, laundry bag and locking bar are fastened securely.

To close a Hartmann Rite-Hite, lower the Cushion Top, fold the hanger bars in with the tips fitting into the small metal loop in the center. Bring the two sections of the trunk together, close the draw bolts and snap center lock.

To close your Hartmann Panama move the garment section toward the other half of the trunk, bringing both sides together. Place the toe against lower keyless lock with heel resting firmly on the floor as shown in illustration No. 32. Lean forward with your weight on this foot; the pressure will close the automatic lock. Lower the Cushion Top and snap the Master Lock.

Clinch- Kupler Lock

TO CLOSE the Panama model equipped with the Hartmann Clinch-Kupler lock, move the garment section toward the other half of the trunk until both sides are brought together, then bring down the raised cushion top, close and lock the trunk.

As the top is closed, it automatically operates the Clinch-Kupler which binds and locks the two sections of the trunk together securely.

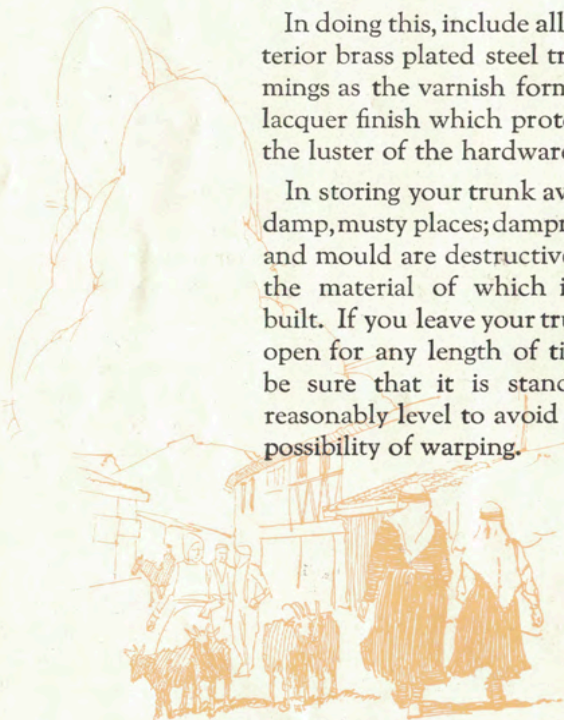

Care of Your Trunk

OUR Hartmann Wardrobe will appreciate a little care. An occasional coat of varnish will add to its appearance and assure a longer wearing exterior surface.

In doing this, include all exterior brass plated steel trimmings as the varnish forms a lacquer finish which protects the luster of the hardware.

In storing your trunk avoid damp, musty places; dampness and mould are destructive to the material of which it is built. If you leave your trunk open for any length of time, be sure that it is standing reasonably level to avoid the possibility of warping.

A Hartmann Has Many Uses

ESIDES the perfect garment-carrying service of a Hartmann when traveling, it has many other convenient uses.

A Hartmann Wardrobe is seldom found in the basement, storage room or attic, because Hartmann owners recognize the convenience of keeping their Hartmann where it is quickly accessible.

In the hotel, apartment or office, a Hartmann serves as a modern clothes closet. Garments of every character hang on Hartmann hangers perfectly.

The combination dust curtain and laundry bag covers the garment section and protects the garments from dust. Apparel removed from a Hartmann is instantly ready to wear.

World- Wide Hartmann Dealer Service

BECAUSE of recognized Hartmann leadership, the best merchants everywhere handle Hartmann Trunks.

In every city in the United States, in European countries, South America and the Far East you will find a Hartmann dealer. He is the best luggage merchant in his locality—his place of business is easily found.

Our responsibility to you does not cease after you have bought your Hartmann. Through co-operation with our authorized dealers everywhere, there is an additional Hartmann service.

Hartmann Trunks withstand extensive travel without the necessity of repairs. But should your trunk receive unusually rough handling and need service, consult the nearest Hartmann dealer. He is best qualified to make repairs on Hartmann Trunks.
